DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species I, drawn to a method of motion compensation for a head mounted display, comprising a camera which captures images of area the same as can be displayed, wherein when no image data is available for areas of display within the field of view, those areas are filled with a predetermined (blanking/shading type) fill (see Page 4, Paragraph 17 of the instant specification, for instance);

Species II, drawn to a method of motion compensation for a head mounted display, comprising a camera which captures images of area the same as can be displayed, wherein when no image data is available for areas of display within the field of view, those areas are filled with earlier captured image data (see Page 13, Paragraph 64 of the instant specification, for instance);

Art Unit: 2629

Species III, drawn to drawn to a method of motion compensation for a head mounted display, comprising a camera which captures images of areas larger than can be displayed and only a portion of the image is displayed (see Page 12, Paragraph 60 of the instant specification, for instance).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species I corresponds to claims 3-4.
Species II corresponds to claims 21-22.
Species III corresponds to claim 5.

The following claims are generic: 1 and 7-20.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Art Unit: 2629

Any international application must relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (see MPEP 1850). As demonstrated by the "Y" reference(s) on the International Search Report, at least one independent claim of the application does not avoid the prior art, therefore, the special technical feature of the application is anticipated by or obvious in view of the prior art. Consequently, the inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1

Furthermore, the species are independent or distinct because the species do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the species are not obvious variants; and the species each have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, and effect.

4. A telephone call was made to Mr. Richard J. Mitchell (Registration Number 34,519) on 1 February 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
